

June 16, 2015

Dear Keri:

Thank you for inviting HomeFront Rising to participate in Art Appetite at the DTLA ArtWalk. It's always valuable to simultaneously raise funds and awareness, and in this case it was even better than usual, because we were gifted with a rare opportunity to have fun in the process. In our neighborhood!

I salute you for making it happen, and I hope we can continue to collaborate in the coming weeks and months. HomeFront Rising is developing rapidly-deployable food, housing and economic solutions for veterans and others, and engaging the community is an essential part of our work. It's hard to imagine an environment with greater potential than the DTLA ArtWalk.

Your support is very much appreciated!

Sincerely,

Project Director, HomeFront Rising